

CROOKHORN COLLEGE

Dear Parents/Carers

We are aware that there has been an ongoing issue all day with the online learning resources that we are asking students to use whilst they are unable to attend College.

We have been advised by both itslearning and Mathswatch that they are currently working hard to improve their capacity to deal with the unprecedented demand that they are experiencing. In the meantime, we would advise to keep persevering if your child is having trouble accessing the online materials.

Also, if you can access the materials across different times within the day rather than at the normal start of the school day you may find this is more successful.
